God continues to show His favor and grace throughout the month of July through our generous partners. The field hockey team from Liberty University and coach, Jodi Murphy have funded the painting of the fourth pod house. This brings us another step closer to having eight more children and a house mom at the site.

ONEless ministries has again blessed us in a huge way by providing funding for the fifth pod house. Construction on the foundation started this month. The process for completing the house is expensive and time consuming, but we know that the labor will result in more children having their basic needs met and having hope for a future.

As we will be able to shelter more and more children, we are praying for additional sponsors to help provide for a child's education, food and clothing. These basic needs are typical prayer requests of youth in Uganda. $45 dollars a month makes a huge impact in the life of a child here at Acres of Hope. Visit worldofgod.org and click the Uganda link to see some of the children waiting for sponsors. If you have a specific child, age, or gender in mind that is not posted, e-mail joan@worldofgod.org with your request. We praise God for His grace and people like you who have brought us this far in the two years since we broke ground.
